PROGRAMME OVERVIEW:

You'll work with poor but delightfully enthusiastic children who will want as much of your time, energy and affection as they can get!

You'll work in an Orphanage run by Spanish Nuns and you'll assist in teaching the children English, Dance, Arts & Crafts, Music, and equally important, you'll help the children with their homework. If you enjoy Sports, you can also help to coach some of the children.

The Orphanage Programme

The orphanage that you'll assist in was started in 1977 by an organization of nuns from Spain and they don't receive any funding from the Government.

Some of the children that the Orphanage helps live there permanently. They go out to school during the day and return after school finishes.

The second type of children that the Orphanage gives assistance to are street kids who don't live at the orphanage, but rather they come in for food and showers. Unfortunately, then they have to go back onto the streets as, sadly, the Orphanage doesn't have enough room. The biggest challenge that the Nuns face is getting the children to go to school regularly and keeping them away from drugs and crime.

While the children are on the premises, the Orphanage tries to help them with any social and/or financial problems and also tries to help them adapt back into society. They also help children whose parents are going through legal parental battles or even the process of adoption.

Work Content.

The Orphanage is run by eight nuns who also give classes in English, Dance, Arts and much more. They take care of the children and their well-being as well.

There are a total of 60 children who either live in the Orphanage or who attend classes there. They range between the ages of 1 to 15 years old. You may also work with a small number of children that have special needs, such as Autism.

You can help with a wide range of activities such as, teaching English, assisting the children with their homework, teaching them Dance, Arts & Crafts, Music ... and more. The Orphanage also tries to arrange outdoor activities, such as various social events or tours with the occasional foreign students who visit the Orphanage.

If you have a knowledge and love of Sports, you can also get involved with Volleyball and Futsal (which is football that is played on a smaller surface and indoors). If there is any sport or activity that you would like to introduce during your placement, please let us know as the Nuns are always open to new ideas that will give the children some enjoyment or benefit.

Your timetable of work is flexible and you'll work from 09.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m. Most of your work will take place in the afternoons between 2.00 and 5.00 p.m. This is the main time when all the children have returned from school or come in off the streets and are all together in a group.

LOCATION:

Rio de Janeiro, was discovered on January (Janeiro) 1, 1502 by Portuguese navigators who mistook the entrance of Guanabara Bay for the mouth of a river (Rio). Brazil's second largest city gave up the title of capital city with the creation of Brasilia – the newly engineered capital of Brazil. If Brasilia is the capital city and Sao Paulo the engine of Brazil, Rio is still regarded as the heart of the country. Known to Brazilians as "Cidade Maravilhosa" (The Wonderful City), Rio de Janeiro is always brimming with colours, sounds, rhythms, and joy, all helping to make it synonymous with Carnival! Very few places in the world match the hospitality and natural charm in which Rio is perpetually swathed.

Squeezed into a narrow, astonishingly lovely zone between rainforest-clad cliffs and the sea, in what many have called the world's most beautiful city setting, Rio de Janeiro pulses like an artery. The famed emeralds, amethysts, and rubies of Rio shops are just the beginning; all the colours of the world are here. The thousand shades of Amazon green, the deep black of a businessman's London made suit, the lucid gold of afternoon sunlight, the grey of granite monoliths, the blue of a tropical sea, the hundred shades of tanned flesh. The primeval splendour of Rio's environs lends the city an eternal youth - the arrogant flamboyance that lets one dance too late and too seductively, talk to a stranger when you don't really speak the language, and wander the streets knowing you will end up somewhere exciting.

That somewhere is usually near the beach: Rio's 45 miles of white sand beach encompass neighbourhoods' familiar the world over. Copacabana, Ipanema, and Leblon cuddle together like a clique of celebrities, each brilliantly different. Rio de Janeiro's diverse personalities often delight and astound, and never fail to fascinate, from the impeccable, beach-scarved Avenida Atlantica to the favelas which blanket the hillsides, to the cobblestone streets and artist-inhabited Victorian mansions of Santa Theresa. During the day, the beach-and-cafe cultures nonchalantly transform the shoreline into the center of the city. At night, the clubs, restaurants, and dance halls, called forros, dominate. Part of the nightlife's charm is its spontaneity.

Rio is indisputably a majestic city to rival any – and comes complete with all the attendant traffic and bustle to follow. But the life that inspires the Rio driver to make three lanes where there were only meant to be two also coaxes an impromptu samba from tired legs and drives that most renowned of all Rio events, Carnival. What colour Mother-Nature hasn't already supplied, the local Cariocas will invent. Nothing is spared for this festival of senses.

ACCOMMODATION & FOOD:

Accommodation is situated in the Flamengo region of Rio - just a hop, skip and a jump away from famous Copacabana beach! This is a great place to be as you will be only 3 minutes away from the metro station, opposite the Catete Palace and you will be able to visit Sugar Loaf Mountain and the Christ the Redeemer statue with great ease.

You will be staying in a dorm room in a brand new hostel which has been set up by an artist with a wish to create a hostel that is different to anything else in Rio. Set in a beautiful redeveloped building from the end of the 19th century, you will be surrounded by wonderful Brazilian art, dipping you straight into the culture from the first minute you arrive! With over 110 beds, some decorated with an "art" theme you will be sure to meet like-minded travellers, other volunteers and artists from all over the world! The hostel currently has internet and WiFi, a common area, TV room, library, book exchange, safes, a terrace area for socializing, and a housekeeping service. It also has a bike rental service. They often have popular music from Brazil with live music on occasion and a fantastically vibrant, friendly atmosphere.

If you'd like to upgrade to a double or single room, just let us know at time of booking and we can arrange it for you. There will be a small supplement for the upgrade. All rooms have their own bathroom and individual cupboard with a key for security.

Food is not included in this project. However, you will receive breakfast in the Hostel, so you'll need to budget for lunch and supper.

Eating out is one of the highlights of living in South America, and an essential part of Brazilian culture! Because of this, the price of your placement includes your breakfast but not lunch or dinner, thus giving you the freedom to sample some of the fabulous food which Rio is famous for. Breakfast currently includes fruits and juices (try the acai – a delicious berry to sprinkle on your granola cereal), coffee, milk, bread, cheese, ham, butter, jams and sweet cakes (popular in Brazil for breakfast) amongst other things. You'll be allowed to use the kitchen facilities whenever it is not being used by the hotel staff.

Area: The hostel is located only a 15 minute-walking distance away from the Arches of 'Lapa', 'Cinelandia' and 'Flamengo', from where you can visit Sugar Loaf Mountains (Pao de Acucar) and the Statue of Christ, the Redeemer; only 3 minutes away from 'Catete' Underground station, where you can catch the train and get to 'Copacabana' or 'Ipanema' beach in less than 15 minutes. There are several banks, ATMs, supermarkets, drugstores, cinema, hotels, shops, etc., all within a couple of minutes away, which makes the area interesting and busy even in the night time! The options for entertainment are endless too; one night you can choose to watch a film at the cinema; the other you can just chill out with friends in a local bar or pub.

HOW YOU MAKE A DIFFERENCE:

By joining a Travellers Program you enable us to keep donating money to worthwhile projects around the world; from clothing and feeding school children, building playgrounds or funding vital conservation research - your participation makes these donations possible.

For every volunteer, a donation is made by Travellers on your behalf into the Bridge The Gap Foundation. This Foundation was set up by us to donate directly to particularly worthwhile and necessary projects for children and animals around the world, and partners with other NGO's to raise match-funding for worthy projects.

COUNTRY PROFILE:

Brazil's colourful diversity and geographical abundance seem to embody everything that is best in South America. The Amazon flows through its heart! There is a dazzling string of great cities along its coast - the pulse-pounding resort of Rio de Janeiro; sprawling, metropolitan Sao Paulo; and, further north, the entrancing canals and bustling piers of Recife.

We have programmes in two very different locations. You can choose between the dazzling city of Rio de Janeiro and the beach paradise Florianópolis. A world of contrasts! Alternatively, why not combine your placement and visit them both....?

Brazil has an incredible amount of diversity in vegetation and climate and a fascinating cultural mix of immigrants who have brought with them their customs and cuisines. A vibrant, pulsating country!

This tropical paradise is alive with mad passion in every walk of life. Axe (a-chay) means energy in Brazil and nowhere else is the heart-pounding, rhythmic energy more prevalent, be it an impromptu capoeira roda on a street corner, bursting with music, excitement and physical perfection, or the sound of loud raucous laughter between two acquaintances over ice cold beer in local open sided bars.

Brazil has the sixth largest population in the world (about 169 million people) which has doubled in the past 30 years. Because of its size, there are only 15 people per sq. km, concentrated mainly along the coast and in the major cities, where two-thirds of the people now live: over 19 million in greater Sao Paulo and 11 million in greater Rio.

In Brazil work is secondary to leisure and Brazilians know how to enjoy life. It is impossible not to absorb this infectious passion for life, enthusiasm for fun and appreciation of the little things in each day. Of course, a consistently hot summer and beaches such as the Copacabana and the infamous local tittle of Caipirinha all help secure that lively, happy vibe!

Caipirinha is the traditional Brazilian cocktail and is fittingly delicious. Refreshing and powerfully alcoholic, a Caipirinha is prepared with a Brazilian sugarcane liquor, Cachaça, lime juice (fresh from the fruit), sugar and lots of ice. This is an appetiser to be enjoyed before eating when socialising with friends – something you will do much of in Brazil.

Brazilians know how to party, in the cities, in the country, on the beaches and, in fact, wherever they go, and the biggest party of all time occurs each year throughout the country. Carnaval is spectacular!! It takes place in February all across Brazil but particularly in Rio. The streets are packed and pumping with incessant samba beats and pure hedonism for 5 days with a period of building excitement for some time before. Any excuse for a party! The year begins after Carnaval and, as with all things Brazilian, somewhat later than planned. Well, after all... what's the rush....?

Around the same size as the USA, Brazil is by far the largest South American country. It borders every country in South America but Ecuador and Chile. Brazil's population is clustered along the East coast of the Atlantic whilst much of the rest of this tropical land remains scarcely populated and difficult to access. Brazilians are most commonly of African, European or Indian descent and of Roman Catholic faith. The official language, unlike anywhere else in South America, is Portuguese. This diverse ethnic background is often cited as the explanation for the welcoming nature of the average Brazilian, who, as some say, 'have a little of the entire world in their blood'.

Carnival, which takes place throughout Brazil, is a moveable feast that is tied to the religious calendar. Traditionally a pre-Lent celebration, ending on Ash Wednesday. Carnival activities around Brazil normally take place from the Friday prior to Ash Wednesday and continue up to and including Ash Wednesday itself. In some cities, the celebrations will spill over through the entire week and include the following weekend. Many Brazilian offices and business will close for the week of Carnival in much the same way UK firms close between Christmas and New Year.

Like Mardi Gras, Carnival has its roots in ancient pagan ritual. The wild parties began in the Middle Ages but were tamed in Europe by Christianity. The Portuguese were irrepressible, however. Carnival flourished and incorporated extravagant costumes from India and primitive carnal beats from African rhythm. Carnival takes place before lent where Catholic Brazilians officially gave up luxuries such as meat, alcohol and pastries. The word Carnival seems to have derived from the Latin 'goodbye meat'. The reasoning, and a grand one, behind Carnival therefore was to accumulate and rack up all sins in a blow out of extreme proportions, in advance of the deprivation ahead!

The excitement of Carnival builds practically all year round. Rehearsals at samba schools begin in August and marching percussion bands practise for their performances of music throughout the year.

Carnival Balls are extreme, surreal and erotic events. There is various stages of undress, extravagant body painting, stickered tattoos, fishnets and spandex involved! Hypnotic music, grinding movements and beautiful ladies of the night vying for the camera's attention are included in the price of the ticket. Some of these beautiful ladies are less 'lady' than they may appear...

Street Carnival is all about the dancing in the streets, marching bands pump out their theme tune and other rhythms as the drag queens and party crazed people bop along behind.

The samba parades are perhaps a highlight of carnival. As the Lonely Planet so nicely puts it, the Brazilians harness sweat, noise and confusion and turn it into art. The best Samba schools in the country prepare all year for their moment of glory. This procession is a competition of the art. There are many aspects to samba including percussion, song, dance, choreography, costumes, story line, floats and decorations. The winner of the samba parades earns admiration and the pride of Rio and all of Brazil.

THINGS TO DO IN: BRAZIL

Brazil offers so many different things to do that it's impossible to narrow it down to a few 'favourites'. One of the greatest things about this vibrant country is the atmosphere.... wherever you are and whatever you're doing, take time to absorb it - as you learn about the country around you and interact with local people you'll soon appreciate the energetic yet laid back Brazilian way of life!

- Amazonia National Park: The Amazon covers an impressive 7 of Brazil's 27 states and almost 40% of the total land mass. If you have the time, its a must see for the wildlife, climbing, trekking or lazy days spent traveling by boat along the river.
- Iguaçu Falls: Sometimes described as being one of the 7 natural Wonders of the World! The falls have 275 separate cascading waterfalls, above which you'll see a glistening rainbow coloured mist. Simply spectacular!
- Rio de Janeiro: Rio is infamous, for its sun, sea and surf. As a city, it's friendly, chaotic, laid back and exciting! On top of the beach scene, Rio's the cultural and educational heart of Brazil, with many art galleries, museums, theatres, and dance halls where you can learn to Samba like the locals!
- Recife: Located on the north eastern coast of Brazil, Recife is well known for the cannals and connecting bridges that criss-cross the city - a picturesque city and a famous tourist destination. There are many great beaches in this region and the cuisine is entirely different from that of the south of Brazil, making it well worth a visit.
- Florianópolis: With 42 beaches and a thriving surf, sun and water sport culture it's no surprise that Veja magazine, a Brazilian publication, named Florianopolis "the best place to live in Brazil."
- The Pantanal: Considered one of the world's great wildlife reserves with the best fishing in South America. Visitors come to these wetlands for the bird watching - this region is teeming with birds and other wildlife.
- Salvador: Formerly Brazil's colonial capital city and once the slave centre of Brazil. Salvador's enchanting cobblestone streets give it the charm of a Roman city, yet with an African soul. A must see for the ornate churches and lively, vibrant atmosphere.
- Sao Paulo: Sao Paulo is HUGE!! Not only is this the most populous city in Brazil, but it is also the commercial centre, home to many big businesses and skyscrapers. Italian and Japanese immigrants have settled in the city, leaving a cosmopolitan atmosphere with some of the trendiest nightlife in the whole of Brazil.
